If desired, you may provide a written explanation of any of your answers to the interrogatories. You need only provide a written explanation when you believe that a written explanation of your answer would provide information helpful in explaining or interpreting your answer.

Interrogatory No. 37 :	"Feasible" makes this question unclear. I believe the word "reasonable" would be more appropriate. Or just a reconsideration of the word used in this interrogatory.
Interrogatory No. 48 :	In addition to an imminent threat there was also an immediate threat.
Interrogatory No.   : 54-56	432 is an incorrect reference. Should be 431 .

Interrogatory No. 20 :	A second negotiator came; it was after the shooting. Unknown if the negotiator was from Kirkland or Bellevue (or even somewhere else.)
Interrogatory No. 37 :	Insted Instead of "feasible" the question might better read "reasonable" or "appropriate"
Interrogatory No. 48 :	Officer Liscoby believed the threat was "immediate", so more of an urgency than "imminent" (The threat all day was imminent.)

JUROR EXPLANATION FORM

If desired, you may provide a written explanation of any of your answers to the interrogatories. You need only provide a written explanation when you believe that a written explanation of your answer would provide information helpful in explaining or interpreting your answer.

Interrogatory No. 20 :	Another hostage negotiator was called. It was a female - she showed up toward the end but I don't know if it was a Kirkland Police hostage negotiator or a Bellevue Police Dept. hostage negotiator
Interrogatory No. 37 :	"Feasible" is not the best word, but gets the point across. It would not have been possible to obtain a good outcome for the baby if he had provided a verbal warning.
